1980 U.S. Census proves accuracy of market guide estimates

The recently released data from the 1980 U.S. Census of Population, included in this issue of the EDITOR & PUBLISHER MARKET GUIDE, gave us new benchmarks to use for the population estimates, and the first opportunity since the 1970 Census to check the accuracy of our estimates.

We were pleased to find that the difference between our estimate of total population of the U.S. and the data from the Department of Census was only 2.4%, not quite as accurate as we found our estimate of retail sales to be in 1981, when we were able to check our sales estimates against the data from the 1977 Census of Retail Sales, when the difference was only .6%, but pretty good.

Our congratulations to Marketing Economics Institute, the organization that does the forecasting for the Market Guide.

The E&P estimates of population for 1982 shows growth continuing at a faster rate in the south and west, and slowing down in the north and east. The five states with the biggest percentage of growth are: Nevada, Wyoming, Washington, Arizona and Florida. Washington, D.C., Massachusetts, Connecticut, Missouri, New York and New Jersey will lose population.

We hope you find that the new three-section format makes it easier to use the Market Guide. We have taken the Population, Income, Household and Farm Products tables, and Retail Sales Census and Estimates tables from the section containing the individual market surveys, and formed a third section.

We thank the daily newspapers of the U.S.A. and Canada for providing information about their individual markets for this 59th edition of the Editor & Publisher Market Guide.

How to use the 1982 Editor & Publisher Market Guide

Preceded by pages of general information designed to facilitate its use, the data in this MARKET GUIDE is presented in three sections:

1. Market Ranking Tables

These tables show, ranked by size according to E&P estimates for 1982, the population, disposable income, total retail sales, total food sales, and income per household of all SMSAs (Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas as defined by the Office of Management and Budget) and larger counties and cities of the U.S.A.

2. Individual Market Surveys

Facts and figures about all U.S. and Canadian daily newspaper markets, listed alphabetically by state and city in the U.S.A., followed by Puerto Rico, then Canada, by province and city. The sample survey below shows the information included, and how the data is generally shown. A state map introduces surveys for each state, showing SMSAs, county boundaries, location of all daily newspaper cities, and county seat cities without daily newspapers. The map for Canada shows national and provicial capitals, and location of all daily newspaper cities.

3. Sales, Population and Income Tables

E&P 1982 retail sales estimates, total, and in nine categories, with number of stores in each, for all SMSAs, U.S. counties and daily newspaper cities. Tables are arranged alphabetically by state, followed by tables of estimated 1982 population, personal income—total, per capita and per household; also number of farms and value of crops and livestock.

RETAIL SALES ESTIMATES

The basis for kind-of-business classifications used in the Editor & Publisher Market Guide is the same as used by the U.S. Department of Commerce in the Census of Retail Trade. This follows the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual (Executive Office of the President, Office of Management and Budget, Standard Industrial Classification Manual, 1972).

The 1977 Census of Retail Sales conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce was a gigantic task and required considerable time for evaluation and tabulation. The 1977 Census is the basis for the Retail Sales Estimates included in this 1981 edition. However, strict comparison of the data for the 1972 and 1977 censuses is limited by the following factors:

Geographic boundaries of a number of areas have changed between 1972 and 1977 censuses, because of annexation and redefinition of Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas and other boundary changes.

In 1977, the Internal Revenue Service assigned a more detailed classification code to business tax returns. As a result, data for certain kinds of business are more detailed than could be shown in 1972.

Omitted from the 1977 sales statistics are sales and other taxes collected from customers as well as carrying charges or other charges for credit. These taxes/charges reported in the 1972 census have been estimated at about $10 billion for the United States as a whole.

In the 1972 census the "legal form of organization" was based on data only for establishments with a total company employment of 250 persons or more. In 1977, this was determined on the basis of the response to the legal form of organization inquiry on the census form.

This Miscellaneous Retail Store category is not included in the Editor & Publisher Tables of Estimated Retail Sales.

For your quick reference, we publish a complete list of the major group classifications of stores included in the Tables of Estimated Retail Sales (numbers following names are SIC codes). PT following the SIC code refers to "part"; n.e.c. refers to "not elsewhere classified."

DEFINITIONS AND NOTES

ABC—Adjacent to certain figures on population and newspapers in the surveys in this book are references to the Audit Bureau of Circulations. The ABC issues standardized statements of the circulation of publisher members, verifies the figures shown in these statements by auditors' examination and disseminates the circulation data to advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers.

Each publisher's statement and audit report issued to members covers the quantity, quality, distribution of circulation and circulation methods.

ADVERTISING & MERCHANDISING DATA—The daily newspaper is the prime source of information on local conditions in each of the newspaper market areas. The name, address and telephone number of people able to supply more information about these areas appears in paragraph 14 of each "Key Market Survey."

CIRCULATION FIGURES—The March 1981 figures appear in most of the surveys. Where March 1981 figures are not available, proper notation is made. Also indicated with the figure is whether the circulation is verified by ABC (Audit Bureau of Circulations) or comes from a sworn statement by the publisher of the newspaper.

CITY ZONE (CZ)—The corporate limits of the city in which the newspaper is published, plus in some cases, the contiguous areas built up adjacent to or surrounding the city of publication. This could also include more than one city, where the areas involved are contiguous areas.

CONSUMER SPENDABLE INCOME—See "Disposable Personal Income" below.

DISPOSABLE PERSONAL INCOME—Sometimes referred to as "Effective Buying Income" or "Consumer Spendable Income", is equal to current income received individuals, unincorporated businesses and non-profit institutions, from all sources. It includes all that is received as wages, salaries, and commissions, including pensions, trust and welfare funds, labor, farm, non-farm, professional, rental, dividends, personal interest and transfer payments after taxes.

The amounts usually deducted for income, property, and other taxes not deductible as business expenses, as well as other general government revenues, such as fines, penalties, and so on, have been subtracted.

EFFECTIVE BUYING INCOME—See "Disposable Personal Income" above.

ESTIMATES—Basic figures are always U.S. Government figures (U.S. Census) or, in Canada, the latest available Census figures from Statistics Canada. Any other figures are either identified as to source or considered "local estimates."

FARM DATA—County Data: The figures used in these tables for the counties are the latest released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The most recent agriculture census was made in 1978.

State Data: State totals of crops and livestock are released annually by the U.S Department of Agriculture. State totals used in these tables are from the most recent USDA Statistical Bulletin. Footnotes at the bottom of each table show the year and source of data.

HOUSEHOLDS—Not to be confused with "families." The term "household" corresponds to "private dwelling unit" as defined in the Census Bureau's current operations, which would include all persons occupying a house or an apartment together.

INCOME PER HOUSEHOLD (DISPOSABLE INCOME)—The total average income earned or received by each household with direct or indirect taxes deducted.

NEIGHBORHOOD SHOPPING AREA (OR DISTRICT)—Indicates specific street locations of active retail trade.

PASSENGER AUTOS—These figures are obtained from the various state departments of motor vehicles, where available, and generally on a county basis. However, in some states no county breakdown is available.

PERSONAL INCOME—See "Disposable Personal Income" above.

PRIMARY MARKET AREA—Considered to be that geographical area in which the newspaper provides primary editorial and advertising service. Area consists of contiguous census units (none larger than a county), and ABC rules require that paid circulation and ABC current estimate of households within each county or portion thereof shall be considered.

RETAIL SALES ESTIMATE TABLES—Based upon the latest available (1977) U.S. Department of Commerce Census of Retail Sales, brought up-to-date, with considerations given to conditions and developments since the Census figures were collected.

Sales and "Kinds of Retail Stores" (as well as estimates) are reported as in the Bureau of Census reports, by type of store in which the sales are made (using the Standard Industrial Classification Manual codes and descriptions all listed in this volume) rather than by the products sold. For example, many non-food items are sold in food stores.

The sum of the nine types of stores will not add up to the total of retail sales estimates for each area since there is also a miscellaneous classification of stores not included in these tables.

In some areas (cities or counties), retail sales total and retail sales per household exceed the figures shown for total income per household. this is because of the influence or attraction an area may have on the shopping patterns or habits of those who live adjacent to or outside it.

RETAIL TRADING ZONE (RTZ)—The area beyond the City Zone whose residents regularly trade to an important degree with the retail merchants in the City Zone. In establishing the boudaries of the RTZ, consideration is given to the transportation facilities, traffic flow, traveling time and schedules by both public facilities, private cars and common carriers; as well as charge accounts, phone orders and regular delivery service from the central or City Zone to the outlying areas.

SHOPPING CENTER—The term is intended to apply to developments with a number and a variety of stores, including chains, supermarkets or banks, with extensive parking facilities, and located on or near a main highway.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA (SMSA)—These are listed as described by the Office of Management and Budget. A complete list of these, with a full explanation, appears in the front of this Market Guide.

STANDARD CONSOLIDATED STATISTICAL AREA (SCSA)—A standard statistical area use to facilitate the presentation and analysis of data on large concentrations of metropolitan population. A complete list of these areas, appears in the front of this Market Guide.

STATISTICS CANADA—Canadian Government agency in Ottawa responsible for all official statistics covering population, retail sales, etc.

STORES—Stores are typed according to the definition of the 1977 U.S. Census of Business (Retail Trade) which use the Standard Industrial Classification Manual codes and descriptions.

SUPERMARKET—This term involves these three conditions: annual sales volume of at least $1 million; four departments; dairy, meat, produce and groceries; and a grocery department that is entirely self-service.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS

STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS definitions were first developed and issued for use by all Federal agencies compiling general purpose statistical data. The definitions made it possible to make better comparison of population, housing, employment, trade and industry statistics. State and local governments, as well as private industry, soon found these definitions most useful.

The Office of Management and Budget considers economic integration as well as the metropolitan character of the counties, communities and towns in determining the standards and criteria established for SMSA designation.

Generally conceived, a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area is an integrated economic and social unit with a large population nucleus.

In November 1971, a revised set of criteria was released by the Office of Management and Budget.

A Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area always includes a city (or cities) of specified population which constitutes the central city and the county (or counties) in which it is located. An SMSA also includes contiguous counties when the economic and social relationships between the central and contiguous counties meet specific criteria of metropolitan character and integration. An SMSA may cross state lines. In New England, SMSAs are composed of cities and towns instead of counties.

1. Each Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area must include at least:
   (a) One city with 50,000 or more inhabitants, or
   (b) A city having a population of at least 25,000 which with the addition of the population of contiguous places, incorporated or unincorporated, have a population density of at least 1,000 persons per square mile and together constitute, for general economic and social purposes, a single community with a combined population of at least 50,000, provided that the county or counties in which the city and contiguous places are located has a total population of at least 75,000. (This criterion replaced a previous one which referred only to "twin cities" with a combined population of at least 50,000.)

In addition to the county (or counties) containing such a city (or cities), contiguous counties are included in an SMSA if, according to certain criteria (somewhat revised since previous definition), they are socially and economically integrated with the central city.

2. A contiguous county will be included in a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area if—
   (a) At least 75% of the resident labor force in the county is in the nonagricultural labor force, and
   (b) At least 30% of the employed workers living in the county work in the central county or counties of the area.

3. A contiguous county that does not meet the requirements of Criterion 2 will be included in a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area if at least 75% of the resident labor force is in the nonagricultural labor force and it meets two of the following additional criteria of metropolitan character and one of the following criteria of integration.
   (a) Criteria of metropolitan character.
      (1) At least 25% of the population is urban.
      (2) The county had an increase of at least 15% in total population during the period covered by the two most recent Censuses of Population.
      (3) The county has a population density of at least 50 persons per square mile.
   (b) Criteria of integration.
      (1) At least 15% of the employed workers living in the county work in the central county or counties of the area, or
      (2) The number of people working in the county who live in the central county or counties of the area is equal at least to 15% of the employed workers living in the county, or
      (3) The sum of the number of workers commuting to and from the central county or counties is equal to 20% of the employed workers living in the county.

The SMSA title always includes the names of the state or states that are included in the SMSA, the name of the largest city (it might include several cities—as many as three), all dependent upon relative and minimum populations of the central city and other cities in the SMSA.

In New England, the requirement with regard to a central city as a nucleus still holds, but the units comprising the area are towns rather than counties. The county (or town in New England) is the basic statistical unit. Since smaller areas are used, a density of at least 100 persons per square mile is used as a measurement.

When two or more adjacent counties each have a city qualifying under Paragraph 1 above and the cities are within 20 miles of each other (city limits to city limits), they will be included in the same area unless there is definite evidence that the two cities are not economically and socially integrated.

If two or more adjacent counties each have a city qualifying under Paragraph 1 above and the cities are more than 20 miles from each other (city limits to city limits), they will not be included in the same area unless there is definite evidence that the two cities are economically and socially integrated.

The foregoing digest of criteria established for qualifications of Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas will serve most purposes. The complete criteria can be obtained directly from the Office of Statistical Policy, Office of Management and Budget, Executive Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20503.

In June 1981, the Office of Management and Budget announced the designation of 36 new SMSA's based on the results of the 1980 Census of Population. This brings the total number of Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas to 323.

STANDARD CONSOLIDATED STATISTICAL AREAS

STANDARD CONSOLIDATED STATISTICAL AREAS always include two or more contiguous Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas which meet the following criteria of size, urban character, integration, and contiguity of urbanized areas:

1. One of the SMSAs has a population of at least 1,000,000.
2. At least 75 percent of the population of each SMSA is urban.
3. The sum of the number of workers commuting between the two SMSAs is equal to:
    - (a) at least 15 percent of the employed workers residing in the smaller SMSA, or
    - (b) at least 10 percent of the employed workers residing in the smaller SMSA, and
    - (1) the urbanized area of a central city of one SMSA is contiguous with the urbanized area of a central city of another SMSA, or
    - (2) a central city in one SMSA shares the same urbanized area with a central city in the other SMSA.

The title of a Standard Consolidated Statistical Area includes the name of the largest central city in each SMSA plus any central city of 250,000 or more, except that in no case does the area title include the names of more than three central cities. The cities shall be listed in the order of the population size of the SMSAs with which they are associated. A regional title may be substituted for the title determined by this criterion.

EDITOR & PUBLISHER'S MARKET RANKINGS

This year EDITOR & PUBLISHER has once again compiled market-ranking tables to help advertising and marketing executives plan programs for the coming year.

These tables have been a feature of the E&P Market Guide since they first appeared in the 1964 edition. The rankings, based on E&P estimates for 1982, are shown for five categories: population, disposable personal income, total retail sales, food sales, and income per household.

Rankings are provided for all cities or communities in the United States in which newspapers are published on a daily basis for all counties whether daily newspapers are published in them or not, and for all standard metropolitan statistical areas in the United States, as defined by the Office of Management and Budget.

The tables are tabulated by computer and are based on the 1980 U.S. Census and the 1977 Census of Business, and our own research estimates for 1982.

Leading U.S. cities, counties and standard metropolitan statistical areas ranked according to EDITOR & PUBLISHER estimates for 1982

Hungry for sales? New England delivers a bigger bite in 1982!

New England 1982 retail sales are estimated at $61,203,678,000*, with per-household sales above those of most other U.S. regions. But it's in food sales that our markets truly shine. In 1982, we'll spend $14,553,663,000* for food—$3,257 for each of our nearly 4.5 million families, topping household spending in all but the Gulf State region.

	RETAIL SALES*	FOOD SALES*	PERSONAL INCOME*

About newspapers:

HERE'S YOUR PRIMARY SOURCE

Journalists know the importance of finding source material and information fast. Weekly for nearly a century reporters, editors, writers and publishers have turned to Editor & Publisher for all the news about newspapers, newspaper people, news services, and feature syndicates. E&P quickly and succinctly tells you the latest developments in the newspaper field from the publisher's office to the pressroom. And, for neophytes or old hands at newspapering, E&P provides the most comprehensive classified listings in the business.

When a newspaper question arises, turn to the source—Editor & Publisher—the only independent journal of newspapering.

Up, up, and far and away.

What's up? The Boston Globe's circulation and linage for starters. And our market coverage as well, according to Three Sigma and Scarborough. All making us far and away your best New England ad buy.

Circulation up.

For the six month period ending March 31, 1981, the daily circulation of The Boston Globe rose to 502,920 and the Sunday circulation to 741,614. Compared to a year ago, that's a daily increase of 11,238 and a Sunday increase of 30,833. *Making The Sunday Globe the fastest growing of the country's top ten Sunday newspapers. And if you're an advertiser, that means Globe readers really grow on you.

Linage up.

More advertisers than ever before are counting on The Globe to reach the markets they want to talk to. In fact, during the first six months of 1981, retail linage increased by 3.4%, classified by 3.6% and general by 10.1%.

Far and away the best advertising medium in New England.

The most impressive figures of all aren't even our own; they're those of the national Three Sigma Study and the locally syndicated Scarborough Report for the Boston Market. Scarborough found that, in the Boston SMSA, the daily Globe reaches 91% of the professional/technical market, 97% of all post graduates and 91% of all households earning $35,000+. And The Three Sigma figures are just as exciting.

Contact your Million Market Newspapers representative or The Globe for the complete story on how effectively we can help you reach any market you're after in New England.

Orange County MetroGroup

Represented nationally by Story & Kelly-Smith
SMSA Orange County, California • 17th in population • 12th in buying power

Are we ever! If Orange County, California were a nation, we'd have a Gross National Product of $25 billion! Our residents have $20 billion in buying power. Taxable retail sales in Orange County were $12.7 billion in 1980. And Orange County banks and savings & loan associations have more than $14.3 billion on deposit.

How can you shake the leaves from the Orange County money tree? Well, no one medium reaches all 709,000 of its households. But one delivers more than any other. The Register's Orange County Metro Group. Every day our papers reach 42 percent of Orange County adult spenders. And a five-issue buy in The Metro Group will reach 67% of Orange County adults.

The Orange County Metro Group. We deliver 256,700 Orange County households. 192,500 of them take no other paper.

You can't get to San Diego from L.A.

Los Angeles newspaper campaigns simply run out of gas before most of San Diego's 1.9 million consumers can even say hello.

And that's waving bye-bye to over $14 billion worth of San Diego buying power . . . and, to the second largest city in all 11 western states—an essential buy for any campaign that hopes to cover the total Southern California market, the largest in the nation.

To reach San Diego, start here.

The San Diego Union and The Evening Tribune is your direct route. With more than 7 times the Sunday penetration of our nearest competitor. And, for example, a five-issue campaign reaches 78% of all $20,000+ San Diego households.

If your strategy is based on reaching the entire Southern California market, we'll help you map out a big part of it. Contact Dick Applegate, National Advertising Manager, Union-Tribune Publishing Co., P. O. Box 191, San Diego, CA 92112, (714) 299-3131, or our national representatives at Sawyer-Ferguson-Walker.

12 - RETAILING: Los Angeles is unique in that shopping centers are spread throughout the market and each represents a major shopping center for that area. Downtown Los Angeles thus represents one of many. It extends eight blocks N. & S. from 1st St. to 9th St. & 7 blocks E. & W. from Spring St. to Figueroa. In discussing the retailing structure of Los Angeles, Orange County, which is part of the marketing area and part of the primary market or city and retail trading zone of Los Angeles metropolitan newspapers, becomes an integral part. All following figures are, therefore, for Los Angeles and Orange Counties.
Neighborhood Shopping Centers - In the Los Angeles Marketing Area there are 107 incorporated cities with their central shopping districts and community shopping centers. In addition there are 56 spacious regional centers, which include department stores, supermarkets, shops, restaurants and parking areas.
Principal Shopping Days : Dept. - Mon., Thu., Fri. & Sat. Food - Thu., Fri., Sat. & Sun.

THE BEE is the KEY to the Sacramento Market

The Sacramento Bee is the growing paper in a growing market.

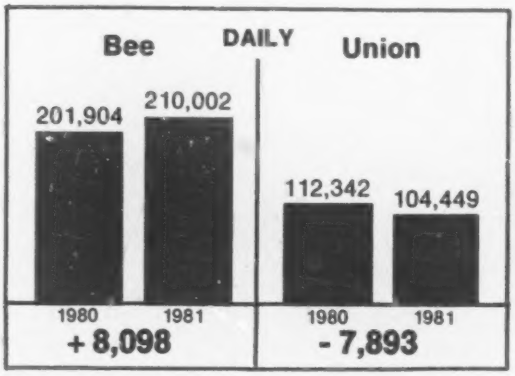
Our circulation has increased over 8,000 Daily and Sunday for the year ending September 30, 1981. In fact we're presently selling over twice as many papers as The Sacramento Union, thus offering 101% more penetration in total market area.

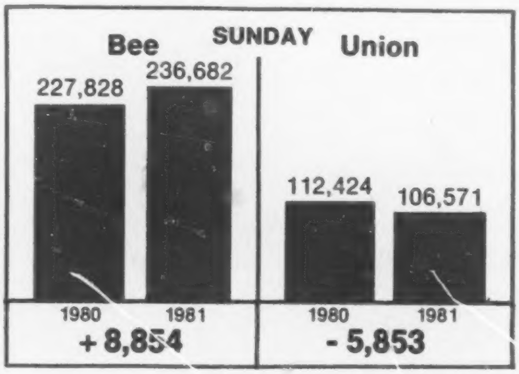
Sacramento ranks 39th in population and 37th in total retail sales for the nation's top 100 markets.

Sacramento's importance cannot be measured by statistics alone. It is the capital of the nation's most populous state. It is the regional center for business, distribution, transportation, communications and retailing.

What it all really adds up to is that The Sacramento Bee is the way to unlock the door to one of the nation's best markets. .

For the complete story call 916/446-9325 or your CWO & O representative and ask for The Sacramento Bee's lastest Circulation Analysis.





Source: Circulation comparison for The Sacramento Bee/Sacramento Union from Audit Bureau of Circulations' FAS-FAX Report - September 30, 1981. Computations by Sacramento Bee Marketing Dept.

A NEW EXCITEMENT UNFOLDS IN DENVER: THE DENVER POST

There's something new for everyone in The Denver Post! We've introduced five exciting sections devoted entirely to Travel, Entertainment, TV, Autos and Fashion. Now, when readers open the paper to what interests them most — there's your ad, showcased in an exclusive environment. Along with the features they want, our readers also get the latest news when they need it. We're now an all-day paper, with morning, noon and evening editions. Keep your eye on us. There's more excitement to come!

FASHIONWEST: a weekly section devoted to fashion, fitness and the Colorado lifestyle for men and women.

TRAVEL: a total travel section with columns and feature reports from the nation's top travel writers.

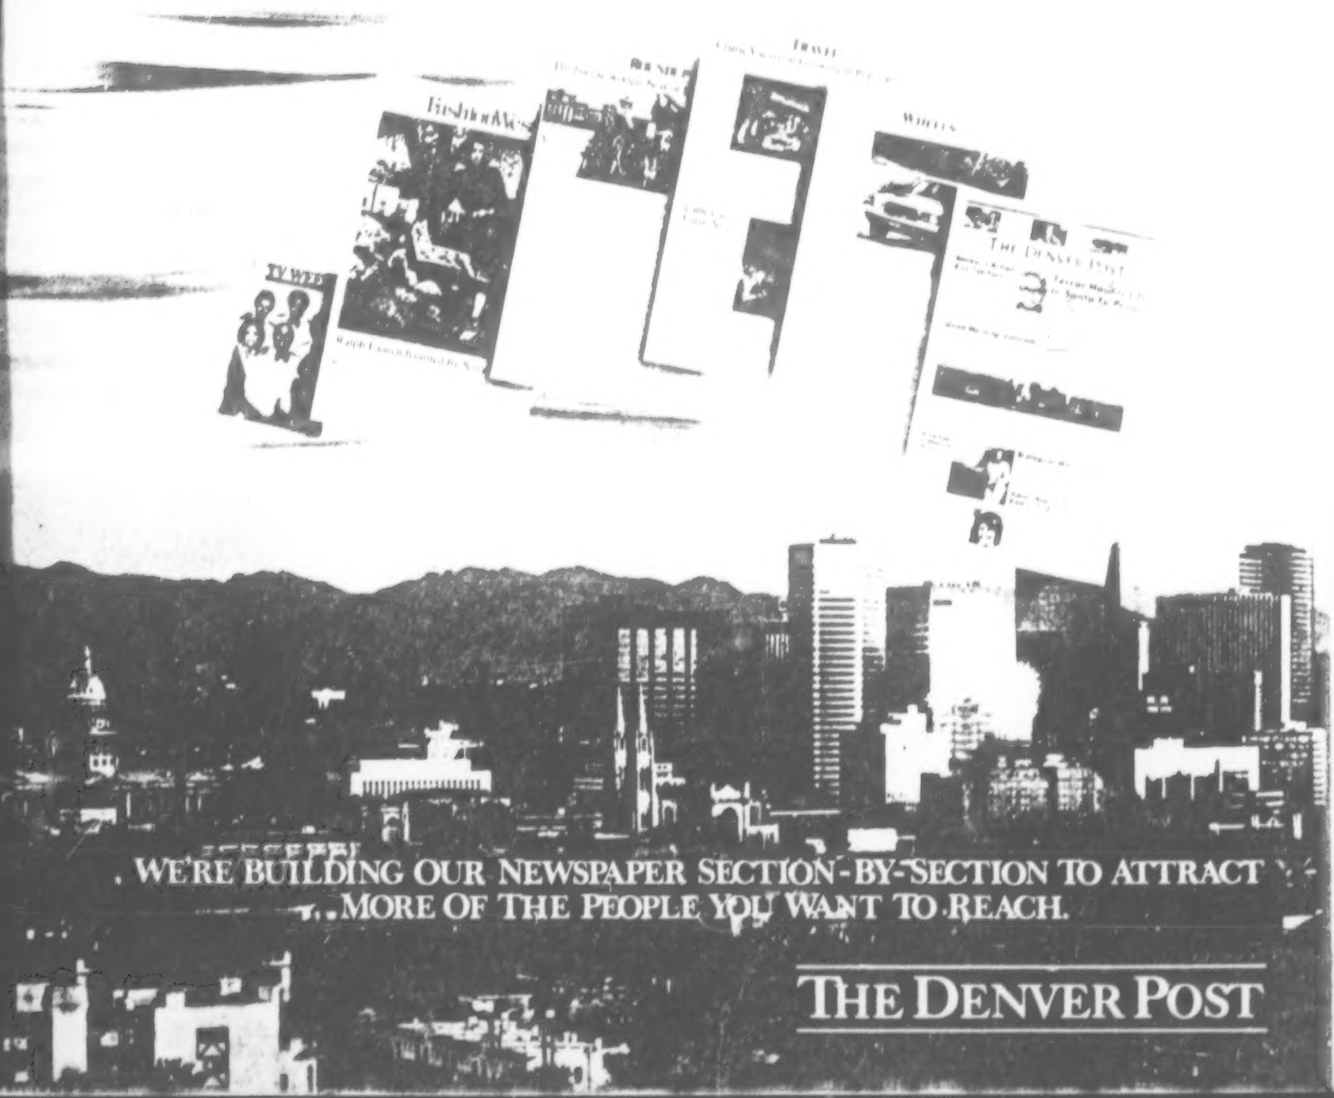
TV WEEK: a handy-size TV magazine that's much more than a guide to programming.

ROUNDUP: our Sunday entertainment section, with updates on the arts, including information on books, music, theatre, film and dining.

WHEELS: a full-size auto section, including car care advice, test drive reports and news from Detroit.

THE MORNING EDITION makes The Denver Post an all-encompassing, all-day paper.

For more information on The Denver Post and the Denver market, call us direct, collect (303) 820-1421 or contact Sawyer-Ferguson-Walker.



WE'RE BUILDING OUR NEWSPAPER SECTION-BY-SECTION TO ATTRACT MORE OF THE PEOPLE YOU WANT TO REACH.

JACKSONVILLE

A MARKET THAT WORKS

Looking for a hot Sun Belt Market? Jacksonville is the market that works. Over a five-day period our Jacksonville papers reach 375,000 adult readers in the five-county SMSA. That's about three-fourths of all adults in the market. Sunday audience increases to reach about eight out of ten adults. Our penetration tops any other major metropolitan market in Florida. Add the St. Augustine Record and you've got a red-hot market that works!
